6. Whanau Open Day / Gala

Our school gala is on Saturday 28th March. It's only four weeks away. We rely heavily on our parents to inform family and friends about our day SO START SPREADING THE WORD as there are a number of other events on the same day. The success of this event depends on the number of people who come along. In preparation, you can help by:

- ✓ 'Bottle Donations'
- ✓ Meat donations for curries and hangi
- ✓ Seafood Supplies - [paua, crayfish, tuatua, fish]
- ✓ Sponsored goods for prizes. If you know someone....who knows someone That has contacts from businesses especially out-of-town [Noel Leeming, Kathmandu, Bunnings, Rebel Sport, Briscos, Kmart, Harvey Norman, etc.], we would love to hear from you. Thank you to all those of you who have already helped out here!
- ✓ Hangi - orders and money to the school office - if you want any, order as these always sell out prior to the Gala Day! [$12 each].
- ✓ One of our biggest earners on the day is our Monster Raffle. Hopefully by this Friday, we will be sending one book home to each whanau to help us sell them [10 tickets at $2 each]. If you cannot sell these, or if you'd like more than just one, please ring the school office to let Ang know.
- ✓ We have a 'Bake Stall' on the day. Any baking can be dropped off on the day.

8. School Lunches

Lunch orders this week will be tomorrow, THURSDAY! [Pizza $2, Juicies $2, Flavoured Milk $2]

9. Manaikalani Chromebooks

Last Tuesday we had a special assembly for our students who ordered their personal chromebooks. The students were all excited to receive these. It will allow our students and whanau to have a closer connection to the child's learning.

KAWA OF CARE: There is a process we need to complete before the chromebooks can go home. This is the participation in our 'Kawa of Care' programme which is learning how to look after the device, being safe online and sharing of information about the security of the device. The student and at least one parent / caregiver need to attend an evening at school which we are organizing for tomorrow at 5.30 here at school. I know that there are a few with sports and other commitments so after tomorrows session, I will talk to those that don't make it to coordinate another session early next week!

10. Oral Language - 'Lend Me Your Ears'

Oral language is an extremely important aspect of a child's ability to communicate effectively. Students need to explore and develop an understanding of phonology, including sounds, stress, and intonation. Language begins with the ear. From the moment we are born, there is a strong connection between hearing language and producing language. We can readily observe the connection between hearing and speaking in a child's language development. A new-born baby is wonderfully attuned to his or her mother's voice. In experimental studies, day-old babies were presented with three different voices: the mother's normal speaking voice; the mother's voice on a monotone; and the voice of a stranger. Each baby responded only to its mother's normal speaking voice.

Babies who are only a few days old will turn their heads towards sounds, and at two weeks they prefer human voices to non-human sounds.

Between two and four months of age, babies respond to different tones of voice - cross, cheerful, playful, soothing - and by about six months understand a few words, such as the names of family members. By twelve months, they understand a considerable number of words and, around that time, begin to produce words for themselves. Hearing people talking is extremely important for any baby's speech development. A child who has normal hearing develops the sounds of speech from interaction with people close to him or her and, by doing this, lays the foundations for other oral skills, such as turn-taking in conversation.
